

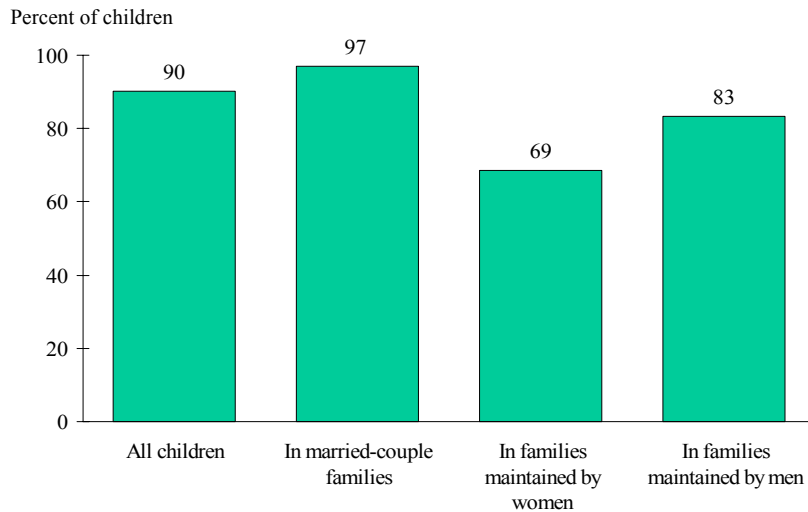

Chart 6-6. Nine out of 10 children live with an employed parent

SOURCE: Bureau of Labor Statistics

2005

Chart 6-6. Nine out of 10 children live with an employed parent

- Children in married-couple families are more likely to live with an employed parent (97 percent) than are children in families maintained by women (69 percent) or men (83 percent) with no spouse present.
- About 62 percent of all children live with mothers who work. Children are more likely to have a working mother in families maintained by women (69 percent) than are children in married-couple families (63 percent).